COURSE DESCRIPTION:

STAR Level II invites people who have begun to trauma-inform their work and life for greater resilience to take a deeper dive. In Level II, participants have a chance to

- review and deepen the learning around trauma awareness and resilience,
- practice and deepen capacity for trauma-informed facilitation, and
- share their plans and questions, while connecting with others who are applying STAR learning in their lives and work.

In 2018, we have re-vamped the STAR Level II curriculum. We continue to focus on trauma's impacts on body, brain, beliefs and behavior, how those impacts often lead to cycles of violence, and possibilities for breaking free of cycles of violence. To build on STAR I learning, STAR II will focus on four key areas:

1. Starting with self: dignity, worthiness, and understanding boundaries, positionality and privilege.
2. Key skills and concepts for working with trauma and resilience: invitationality, slowing down so we can get it, facing skepticism, circles.
3. Embodied learning: as anti-oppressive pedagogy, stress release and creativity ignition.
4. Trauma-informed organizations, structural awareness and larger-scale change: anti-domination stance, connecting individual and collective situations (developing cultures of dignity and resilience in organizations and communities).

COURSE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES:

The general objective of the course is to equip participants to comprehend and apply STAR concepts and models. It is not expected that participants will be prepared to replicate a STAR I seminar. This course prepares participants to:

- Bring a trauma-informed lens to their personal and professional life
- Confidently integrate STAR concepts and activities into their programs
- Adapt STAR content for use with various populations
- Join the STAR Practitioner learning community for ongoing connection/exchange and conceptual and practical resources
- Help organizations and communities understand the importance of trauma-sensitive work

REQUIRED TEXTS AND OTHER RESOURCES:

- STAR II Manual (handed out at first class session)
- Ginwright, Shawn. Hope and Healing in Urban Education: How Urban Activists and Teachers are Reclaiming Matters of the Heart. Routledge, 2016. ISBN 978-1138797574
- Hicks, Donna. Dignity: The Essential Role It Plays in Resolving Conflict. New Haven and London: Yale University Press, 2011. ISBN 978-0-300-16392-6
- Van der Kolk, Bessel. The Body Keeps the Score: Brain, Mind and Body in the Healing of Trauma. New York, NY: Viking, 2014. ISBN 978-0-670-78593-3
- Van Dernoot Lipsky, Laura. Trauma Stewardship: An Everyday Guide to Caring for Self While Caring for Others. San Francisco: Berrett-Koehler Publishers, 2009. ISBN 978-1576759448
- Vivian, P. and Hormann, S. Organizational Trauma and Healing. North Charleston, SC: CreateSpace, 2013. ISBN 978-1479188512

REQUIRED ASSIGNMENTS:

- A. Attendance (35%) This graduate course (offered for 2 credits) requires 5 days of in-class learning; therefore, class attendance and participation is weighted heavily at 35% of the grade. Students are expected to actively participate in all simulations and exercises. This may, on occasion, require overnight preparation.
- B. 4 brief reading responses (24%): Read and write a 1-2 page single-spaced response to at least 3 core texts and one additional reading of your choice (from syllabus or your own choosing) – so, 4 responses. Responses should indicate the participant has read and digested the material and is prepared to apply or critically question the text’s message. Due within a week after STAR Level II, Monday 26 November. (The intention of this assignment is to make your reading critique easier.)
- C. Action plan with feedback process and written background (25%) Develop a plan for implementing a STAR-based process with a particular population (not the replication of STAR I) during the STAR II week and share your plan in brief to gather insights and suggestions from classmates; participate in others’ feedback process (offering them insights and suggestions and questions). Due within a week after STAR Level II, Monday 26 November.
- D. Required Texts Reading Critique (16%) Participants are expected to read the assigned texts and a chosen selection among the recommended readings and write an integrative critique of the readings in light of the course and their respective professional interests. The critique should include a brief summary of the main point(s) of each text as well as an analysis on how the various books relate to each other and/or to the general STAR objective of creating individual, communal and societal well-being. (8-10pp double spaced) Due by Friday Dec 14.

Assignments are to each be submitted via email to Katie Mansfield, professor of record, at katie.mansfield@emu.edu. It is anticipated that papers may include charts or diagrams (which are in excess of the written page specifications for each project). If these charts and other graphic material are not produced electronically, they should be scanned and included with the electronic submission of hard copies submitted via campus mail to Katie.

Participants who do not come to campus regularly should make special arrangement with the professor of record regarding the submission of any non-electronic material.

All coursework must be submitted not later than December 14, 2018 (and should be submitted by the due dates above unless an extension for a given assignment is approved).

These are brief descriptions of required graded assignments for the course. More details for each assignment can be found on the "Guidance Notes" that will be provided in class.

SCHEDULE AND TOPICS:

The daily class schedule is included in the STAR II Manual which is distributed the first day of class.

GRADING CRITERIA AND OTHER POLICIES:

Writing Guidelines:

Writing will be a factor in evaluation: EMU has adopted a set of writing guidelines for graduate programs that include six sets of criteria: content, structure, rhetoric & style, information literacy, source integrity, and conventions (see page 3). It is expected that graduates will be able to write at least a “good” level with 60% writing at an “excellent” level. For the course papers, please follow the APA style described in CJP’s GUIDELINES for GRADUATE PAPERS (see CJP Student Resources Moodle page or request a copy from the Academic Program Coordinator), unless directed otherwise by the instructor.

Academic Integrity Policy (AIP):

EMU faculty and staff care about the integrity of their own work and the work of their students. They create assignments that promote interpretative thinking and work intentionally with students during the learning process. Honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility are characteristics of a community that is active in loving mercy and doing justice. EMU defines plagiarism as occurring when a person presents as one’s own someone else’s language, ideas, or other original (not common-knowledge) material without acknowledging its source (Adapted from the Council of Writing Program Administrators). This course will apply EMU’s AIP to any events of academic dishonesty. For more information see https://emu.edu/cms-links/writing-program/docs/Student_Academic_Integrity_Policy.BB.9-16.pdf. If you have doubts about what is appropriate, one useful website is <https://www.indiana.edu/~academy/firstPrinciples/index.html>.

Turnitin:

Students are accountable for the integrity of the work they submit. Thus, you should be familiar with EMU’s Academic Integrity Policy (see above) in order to meet the academic expectations concerning appropriate documentation of sources. In addition, EMU is using Turnitin, a learning tool and plagiarism prevention system. For CJP classes, you may be asked to submit your papers to Turnitin from Moodle. For more information about Turnitin, with instructions for using it see: https://guides.turnitin.com/01_Manuals_and_Guides/Student_Guides.

Moodle:

Moodle (<https://moodle.emu.edu/>) is the online learning platform that EMU has chosen to provide to faculty, administrators and students. Students will have access to course information within Moodle for any class they are registered for in a given term. The amount of time a student has access to information before and after the class is somewhat dependent on the access given to students by the individual faculty member. However, please note that courses are not in Moodle permanently – after two years the class will no longer be accessible. Please be sure to download resources from Moodle that you wish to have ongoing access to.

Technology Requirements and Communication (if joining a class by zoom):

Communication will largely be accomplished via the Moodle platform utilized by EMU and your EMU email. Check both frequently during the semester. In addition, during class synchronous sessions, it will be expected that you will use a noise-reducing headset to minimize background noise and disruption. Remember to keep your headsets UNMUTED during the sessions and avoid moving, brushing, touching or fumbling with them as it creates unwanted noise in the class space.

Institutional Review Board:

All research conducted by or on EMU faculty, staff or students must be reviewed by the Institutional Review Board to assure participant safety: <http://www.emu.edu/irb/>.

Grading Scale & Feedback:

In most courses grades will be based on an accumulation of numerical points that will be converted to a letter grade at the end of the course (several CJP courses are graded pass/fail). Assignments will receive a score expressed as a fraction, with the points received over the total points possible (e.g. 18/20). The following is the basic scale used for evaluation. Points may be subtracted for missed deadlines.

95-100 = A outstanding	90-94 = A- excellent	85-89 = B+ very good
80-84 = B good	76-79 = B- satisfactory	73-75 = C+ passing
70-72 = C unsatisfactory	Below 70 = F failing

Graduate students are expected to earn A's & B's. A GPA of 3.0 for MA students and 2.75 for GC students is the minimum requirement for graduation.

Regarding feedback on papers/projects: Students can expect to receive papers/assignments back in a class with faculty feedback before the next paper/assignment is due. This commitment from faculty assumes that the student has turned the paper in on the agreed upon due date.

Graduate & Professional Studies Writing Center:

Please utilize the writing center! They offer free individual tutoring from a graduate student tutor. Please see <http://www.emu.edu/writing-program/> for more information, including how to schedule appointments.

Library

The Hartzler Library offers research support (via e-mail, chat, phone, or SSC campus) and the library home page offers subject guides to help start your research. These resources are accessible from the library home page: <https://emu.edu/library/>.

Office of Academic Access:

If you have a physical, psychological, medical or learning disability that may impact your work in this course, it is your responsibility to contact the Office of Academic Access in the Academic Success Center on the third floor of the Hartzler Library. They will work with you to establish eligibility and to coordinate reasonable accommodations. All information and documentation is treated confidentially. See <http://www.emu.edu/academics/access/> for more information.

Class Attendance:

Students are expected to attend all class meetings. If unusual or emergency circumstances prevent class attendance, the student should notify the professor in advance if possible. Multiple absences from class will result in lower grades. The student is responsible for the material presented in classes missed (from EMU Graduate Catalog). Students should be aware of the importance of regular class attendance, particularly in the case of CJP classes that only meet once a week or over several weekends. Being absent for more than one class leads to a student missing a large portion of the class content. In addition to consistent class attendance, students should make every effort to arrive to class on time out of respect for the learning process, fellow students and faculty.

Course Extensions and Outstanding Grades:

For fall and spring semesters, all coursework is due by the end of the semester. If a student will not be able to complete a course on time, the student must submit a request one week before the end of the semester for an extension (up to 6 months), by emailing the instructor, academic advisor and the Academic Program Coordinator. If the request is granted the student will receive an "I (incomplete) for the course which will later be replaced by a final grade when the work has been turned in on the agreed upon date. If the request for an extension is denied, the student will receive a grade for the work that has been completed up until the time the course was expected to have been completed. If no work has been submitted, the final grade will be an F (or W under unusual circumstances and with permission of the Program Director). Extensions will be given only for legitimate and unusual situations. Extensions are contracted by the student with the program for up to a maximum of 6 months after the deadline for the course work. PLEASE NOTE: Grades for coursework submitted late may be reduced at the instructor's discretion and in line with their course policy on turning in coursework after the due date. If the extension deadline is not met, the instructor will submit the final grade based on what has been received to date.

Inclusive, Community-Creating Language Policy:

Eastern Mennonite University expects all its faculty, staff, and students to adopt inclusive written and spoken language that welcomes everyone regardless of race or ethnicity, gender, disabilities, age, and sexual orientation. We will use respectful and welcoming language in all our official departmental documents and correspondence, including those put forth by way of Internet communication, and throughout all academic coursework, inclusive of classroom presentations and conversations, course syllabi, and both written and oral student assessment materials (see CJP Student Resources moodle page or request a complete copy along with best practices from the Academic Program Coordinator).

Title IX:

The following policy applies to any incidents that occur (on or off campus) while you are a student registered at EMU. It does not apply if you are talking about incidents that happened prior your enrollment at EMU. It is important for you to know that all faculty and staff members are required to report known or alleged incidents of sexual violence (including sexual assault, domestic/relationship violence, stalking). That means that faculty and staff members cannot keep information about sexual violence confidential if you share that information with them. For example, if you inform a faculty or staff member of an issue of sexual harassment, sexual assault, or discrimination he/she will keep the information as private as he/she can, but is required to bring it to the attention of the institution's Title IX Coordinator. If you would like to talk to this office directly, Irene Kniss, Title IX Coordinator, can be reached at 540-432-4302 or irene.kniss@emu.edu. Additionally, you can also report incidents or complaints through the online portal at <http://emu.edu/safecampus/>. You may report, confidentially, incidents of sexual violence if you speak to Counseling Services counselors, Campus Ministries' pastors, or Health Services personnel providing clinical care. These individuals, as well as the Title IX Coordinator, can provide you with information on both internal & external support resources. Please refer to the Student Handbook which can be found at <https://emu.edu/cms-links/graduate/docs/graduate-student-handbook.pdf> for additional policies, information, and resources available to you.

Criteria for Evaluating Arts-Based Peacebuilding Projects

Background notes:

- Arts approaches can be used in several different stages of a project:
 1. To gain or create knowledge. (For example, research “subjects” or participants might be engaged in an arts-based project as a way of soliciting information or encouraging insight.)
 2. To add complexity or nuance to created knowledge. (For example, an arts practice may serve as one method in a multi-method research project, creating an integrated, reflective methodology for the project. Alternatively, an arts practice could be used to analyze and/or interpret data collected by conventional methods.)
 3. To test knowledge. (For example, researchers might verify their interpretation of findings from a more traditional research process by creating a play or exhibit and testing it for resonance with their subjects.)
 4. To share findings. (For example, a play or exhibit might be created to (re)-present data collected or analyzed via conventional methods in order to impart the particular kinds of meaning the researcher considers important, and as a way to reach and engage a broader audience.)
 5. As a form of intervention. (For example, a project might be designed to raise awareness of an issue or conflict, to promote dialogue on a contested issue, or to advocate for a cause.)
- Arts-based products often do not specify methodologies used. Thus it may be important for a project to be accompanied by a short paper discussing analysis, theory of change, audience, goals, and methods used.
- Patricia Leavy, in “Method Meets Art: Arts-based Research Practice” (New York: Guilford Press) 2009, argues that “[t]raditional conceptions of validity and reliability, which developed out of positivism, are inappropriate for evaluating artistic inquiry.” (p. 15). She suggests that authenticity, trustworthiness, and validity can be assessed through attention to such elements as aesthetics, resonance, and vigor.
- For a discussion of standards, see “Method Meets Art” (Leavy, 2009: 15ff and Chapter 8).
