Office hours: Available by appt. Thursdays, 12 - 1:30 p.m.

EMS MISSION: Eastern Mennonite Seminary prepares people to serve and lead in a global context. In response to God's saving grace, we educate students to bear witness to the gospel of Jesus Christ in the power of God's Spirit as wise interpreters, mature practitioners, discerning communicators, and transformational leaders.

CJP MISSION: The Center for Justice and Peacebuilding educates a global community of peacebuilders through the integration of practice, theory and research.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

The Bible has often been used to justify war and other forms of violence. The biblical story has also been read and interpreted as pertaining to only personal beliefs and behavior rather than communal concerns or social issues. The intent of this course is to explore the biblical story and what it says about issues of violence, justice, and peace. How are people who embrace the biblical story called to apply these understandings to their lives, personally and collectively? How have Christian communities around the world made use of the biblical story as a core component of their efforts to work for safety, emancipation, self-determination, and healing? How can we use biblical narratives in our work to build peace and justice within communities? As we examine these questions, we will center perspectives and traditions of reading the Bible birthed by people experiencing direct violence and oppression. This course is an elective at EMS and CIP.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

Upon successful completion of the course, our hope is that the student will be a:

Wise Interpreter who:

• Is able to explore and examine the various dimensions of peace and justice in the Bible, with special attention to how the Bible as a whole functions as a foundation for peacemaking and social justice;

• Articulate how Jesus Christ, along with his life and teachings, is foundational for peace, peacemaking, and social justice.

Mature Practitioner who:

- Draws from historical and contemporary examples whereby particular people or communities who were informed and inspired by the Biblical story have worked for personal and social transformation;
- Embodies biblically informed and shaped practices within their communities in pursuit of social change.

Discerning Communicator who:

- Employs sacred stories to educate and train for social justice, conflict transformation, and restorative justice with a variety of participants and audiences.
- Demonstrates how peace and justice are essential features of God's salvific and emancipatory work and mission in the world.

Transformational Leader who:

- Engages in formative practices for justice and peacebuilding rooted in the biblical story and its holistic mission and vision;
- Nourishes a conviction to witness to and work towards God's peaceable kin(g)dom;
- Invites others into an examined life dedicated to justice and peacebuilding.

REQUIREMENTS AND EVALUATION:

This course may be taken for Training/Participation Audit (PA), 3 credits (3C), or 2 credits (2C). The participant type designated alongside each component stipulate what is required for each.

I. Class Participation (20%). Required for PA, 2C, 3C

Active engagement: Participate in class sessions, demonstrating thoughtful preparation for class. Critical preparation: Develop a reading reflection for each class and complete any additional small activities assigned in preparation for various classes. For the reading reflection, choose at least one required text, and write a reflection that includes: at least three key insights or big ideas, at least two questions for discussion, and at least one connection or application to your own work and/or context. This can take many forms, including poetry, an image or diagram, and/or three or more paragraphs of prose. Post reflections to Moodle on Mondays by 11:59 p.m. Class Leadership: You will be invited to lead class exercises, devotionals, activities, etc. In addition, we ask students to lead through eliciting thoughtful engagement from one another.

2. Personal Reflection (15%) - Due Tuesday, Sep. 24. Required for 2C, 3C

One of the objectives of the course is for students to be able to articulate a biblically informed vision of peace (or shalom) and justice. For this brief paper (1000 - 1500 words), you are asked to weigh, discern, and sort through your own perspectives, and those of others (including those whom we will read), in order to articulate your understanding of "gospel," or God's salvific activity and mission in the world. In focusing on the way we articulate such a vision the hope is that this vision will inform who we are and therefore what we do. It is also hoped that this reflection can cultivate the ability to clearly communicate such a vision for those providing leadership in the Church and other spiritual communities, organizations and society-at-large.

3. Book Review (25%) - Due Tuesday, October 29. Required for 2C, 3C

Students can choose a book (preferably one that would feed focus on the subject of their final paper or project) and write a review of it. The review needs to be between 1000 - 1250 words. Book reviews should summarize the overall argument of the book, identify and explain key aspects of the author's argument. You should also offer both a brief critical reflection of the text as well as a personal reflection of how it has shaped or is shaping you. A list of potential books to review will be provided. You will also be asked to present briefly on your book in class.

4. Final Paper or Project (40%) - Due Tuesday, November 19. Required for 3C

Option A: Write a paper that explores a specific topic that emerges from the course content. This paper needs to be 4000 - 4500 words in length.

Option B: Develop a robust workshop series, training guide, or collection of connected exercises and activities that uses one or more stories from the Bible to promote conflict transformation, restorative justice, social justice and/or trauma healing. Your written submission should be detailed enough that someone could facilitate it using your instructional guide. You must also provide a coherent statement on the development of your materials including an explanation of the choices you made, your intended participants/audience, and the process you used to create it.

Option C: In lieu of a paper (option A), you can propose an arts-based project to explore a topic. A detailed written proposal must be submitted to the instructors no later than Tuesday, October 29. Please carefully review the criteria for evaluating arts-based peacebuilding projects at the end of this syllabus before developing your proposal, which should clearly address the noted criteria.

Note: Papers should be Times New Roman, 12 pt. font, double-spaced and submitted electronically through Turnitin via our Moodle page. Footnotes and bibliographies should follow a recognized method; the Chicago style is preferred. You will receive additional verbal and written instructions on all required assignments in class and via Moodle.

BOOKS AND MATERIALS:

- Ched Myers, Stuart Taylor, Marie Dennis, Joseph Nangle, and Cynthia Moe-Lobeda, Say to this Mountain: Mark's Story of Discipleship (Maryknoll, NY: Orbis Books, 1996).
- Perry Yoder, Shalom: The Bible's Word for Salvation, Justice and Peace (Eugene, OR: Wipf & Stock, 1997).

- R.S. Sugirtharajah, Voices from the Margin: Interpreting the Bible in the Third World (25th Anniversary Edition) (Maryknoll, NY: Orbis Books, 2016).
- Alexia Salvatierra and Peter Heltzel, Faith-Rooted Organizing: Mobilizing the Church in Service to the World (Downers Grove, IL: Intervarsity Press, 2014).
- Helder Don Camara, Spiral of Violence (London, UK: Sheed and Ward Pty Ltd., 1971).. (This will be made available via Moodle.)

Supplemental Text:

• William Herzog, Parables as Subversive Speech: Jesus as Pedagogue of Liberation (Louisville, KY: Westminster/John Knox Press, 1994).

CLASS SCHEDULE: The course schedule will be provided via Moodle.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION

Counseling services: We strongly encourage all students to access counseling services. The Counseling Center serves as a free resource for all seminary and graduate students, which we hope you will take advantage of if you do not have an existing therapist. Counseling sessions are provided in Counseling Services located at Suter House, 1115 College Avenue. Look for the bright blue door! Walk-in hours are Monday - Friday, from 1 - 2 p.m. If needed, referrals can be made to local professionals in the community, for more extensive or long-term therapy. To learn more, visit https://emu.edu/studentlife/counseling/

Writing Guidelines:

Writing will be a factor in evaluation: EMU has adopted a set of writing guidelines for graduate programs that include six sets of criteria: content, structure, rhetoric & style, information literacy, source integrity, and conventions (see page 3). It is expected that graduates will be able to write at least a "good" level with 60% writing at an "excellent" level. For course papers, please follow the APA style unless directed otherwise by the instructor.

Academic Integrity Policy (AIP):

EMU faculty and staff care about the integrity of their own work and the work of their students. They create assignments that promote interpretative thinking and work intentionally with students during the learning process. Honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility are characteristics of a community that is active in loving mercy and doing justice. EMU defines plagiarism as occurring when a person presents as one's own someone else's language, ideas, or other original (not common-knowledge) material without acknowledging its source (Adapted from the Council of Writing Program Administrators). This course will apply EMU's AIP to any events of academic dishonesty. If you have doubts about what is appropriate, Indiana University's Plagiarism Tutorials and Tests may be a useful resource.

Turnitin:

Students are accountable for the integrity of the work they submit. Thus, you should be familiar with EMU's Academic Integrity Policy (see above) in order to meet the academic expectations concerning appropriate documentation of sources. In addition, EMU is using Turnitin, a learning tool and plagiarism prevention system. You may be asked to submit your papers to Turnitin from Moodle.

Moodle:

Moodle is the online learning platform that EMU has chosen to provide to faculty, administrators and students. Students will have access to course information within Moodle for any class they are registered for in a given term. The amount of time a student has access to information before and after the class is somewhat dependent on the access given to students by the individual faculty member. However, please note that courses are not in Moodle permanently – after two years the class will no longer be accessible. Please be sure to download resources from Moodle that you wish to have ongoing access to.

Technology Requirements and Communication (if joining a class by zoom):

Communication will largely be accomplished via the Moodle platform utilized by EMU and your EMU email. Check both frequently during the semester. In addition, during class synchronous sessions, it will be expected that you will use a noise-reducing headset to minimize background noise and disruption. Remember to keep your headsets UNMUTED during the sessions and avoid moving, brushing, touching or fumbling with them as it creates unwanted noise in the class space.

Graduate & Professional Studies Writing Center:

Please utilize the writing program! They offer free individual tutoring from a graduate student tutor. Please visit the website to schedule an appointment.

Institutional Review Board (IRB):

All research conducted by or on EMU faculty, staff or students must be reviewed by the Institutional Review Board to assure participant safety.

Grading Scale & Feedback:

In this course grades will be based on an accumulation of numerical points that will be converted to a letter grade at the end of the course. Assignments will receive a score expressed as a fraction, with the points received over the total points possible (e.g. 18/20). The following is the basic scale used for evaluation. Points may be subtracted for missed deadlines.

95-100 = A outstanding 90-94 = A- excellent 85-89 = B+ very good 80-84 = B good 76-79 = B- satisfactory 70-72 = C unsatisfactory 85-89 = B+ very good 73-75 = C+ passing 70-72 = C unsatisfactory 70-72 = C unsatisfacto

Graduate students are expected to earn A's & B's. A GPA of 3.0 for MA students and 2.75 for GC students is the minimum requirement for graduation.

Regarding feedback on papers/projects: Students can expect to receive papers/assignments back in a class with faculty feedback before the next paper/assignment is due. This commitment from faculty assumes that the student has turned the paper in on the agreed upon due date.

Library

The Hartzler Library offers research support (via e-mail, chat, phone, or SSC campus) and the library home page offers subject guides to help start your research.

Office of Academic Access:

If you have a physical, psychological, medical or learning disability that may impact your work in this course, it is your responsibility to contact the Office of Academic Access in the Academic Success Center on the third floor of the Hartzler Library. They will work with you to establish eligibility and to coordinate reasonable accommodations. All information and documentation is treated confidentially.

Class Attendance:

Students are expected to attend all class meetings. If unusual or emergency circumstances prevent class attendance, the student should notify the professor in advance if possible. Multiple absences from class will result in lower grades. The student is responsible for the material presented in classes missed (from EMU Graduate Catalog). Students should be aware of the importance of regular class attendance, particularly in the case of classes that only meet once a week or over several weekends. Being absent for more than one class leads to a student missing a large portion of the class content. In addition to consistent class attendance, students should make every effort to arrive to class on time out of respect for the learning process, fellow students and faculty.

Course Extensions and Outstanding Grades:

For fall and spring semesters, all coursework is due by the end of the semester. If a student will not be able to complete a course on time, the student must submit a request one week before the end of the semester for an extension (up to 6 months), by emailing the instructor, academic advisor and the Academic Program Coordinator. If the request is granted the student will receive an "I (incomplete) for the course which will later be replaced by a final grade when the work has been turned in on the agreed upon date. If the request for an extension is denied, the student will receive a grade for the work that has been completed up until the time the course was expected to have been completed. If no work has been submitted, the final grade will be an F (or W under unusual circumstances and with permission of the Program Director). Extensions will be given only for legitimate and unusual situations. Extensions are contracted by the student with the program for up to a maximum of 6 months after the deadline for the course work. PLEASE NOTE: Grades for coursework submitted late may be reduced at the instructor's discretion and in line with their course policy on turning in coursework after the due date. If the extension deadline is not met, the instructor will submit the final grade based on what has been received to date.

Inclusive, Community-Creating Language Policy:

Eastern Mennonite University expects all its faculty, staff, and students to adopt inclusive written and spoken language that welcomes everyone regardless of race or ethnicity, gender, disabilities, age, and sexual orientation. We will use respectful and welcoming language in all our official departmental documents and correspondence, including those put forth by way of Internet communication, and throughout all academic coursework, inclusive of classroom presentations and conversations, course syllabi, and both written and oral student assessment materials.

Title IX:

The following policy applies to any incidents that occur (on or off campus) while you are a student registered at EMU. It does not apply if you are talking about incidents that happened prior your enrollment at EMU. It is important for you to know that all faculty and staff members are required to report known or alleged incidents of sexual violence (including sexual assault, domestic/relationship violence, stalking). That means that faculty and staff members cannot keep information about sexual violence confidential if you share that information with them. For example, if you inform a faculty or staff member of an issue of sexual harassment, sexual assault, or discrimination he/she will keep the information as private as he/she can, but is required to bring it to the attention of the institution's Title IX Coordinator. You can also report incidents or complaints through the online portal. You may report, confidentially, incidents of sexual violence if you speak to Counseling Services counselors, Campus Ministries' pastors, or Health Services personnel providing clinical care. These individuals, as well as the Title IX Coordinator, can provide you with information on both internal & external support resources. Please refer to the Student Handbook for additional policies, information, and resources available to you.

Criteria for Evaluating Arts-Based Peacebuilding Projects

Background notes:

- Arts approaches can be used in several different stages of a project:
  - 1. To gain or create knowledge. (For example, research "subjects" or participants might be engaged in an arts-based project as a way of soliciting information or encouraging insight.)
  - 2. To add complexity or nuance to created knowledge. (For example, an arts practice may serve as one method in a multi-method research project, creating an integrated, reflective methodology for the project. Alternatively, an arts practice could be used to analyze and/or interpret data collected by conventional methods.)
  - 3. To test knowledge. (For example, researchers might verify their interpretation of findings from a more traditional research process by creating a play or exhibit and testing it for resonance with their subjects.)
  - 4. To share findings. (For example, a play or exhibit might be created to (re)-present data collected or analyzed via conventional methods in order to impart the particular kinds of meaning the researcher considers important, and as a way to reach and engage a broader audience.)
  - 5. As a form of intervention. (For example, a project might be designed to raise awareness of an issue or conflict, to promote dialogue on a contested issue, or to advocate for a cause.)
- Arts-based products often do not specify methodologies used. Thus it may be important for a project to be accompanied by a short paper discussing analysis, theory of change, audience, goals, and methods used.
- Patricia Leavy, in "Method Meets Art: Arts-based Research Practice" (New York: Guilford Press) 2009, argues that "[t]raditional conceptions of validity and reliability, which developed out of positivism, are inappropriate for evaluating artistic inquiry." (p. 15). She suggests that authenticity, trustworthiness, and validity can be assessed through attention to such elements as aesthetics, resonance, and vigor.
- For a discussion of standards, see "Method Meets Art" (Leavy, 2009: 15ff and Chapter 8).
